Running a business of any size requires skills and resilience and no more so than when faced with business transformation. Having a trusted advisor onboard provides strategic insight and critical thinking – not to hinder the business but to ensure the transformation is viable and will benefit the business. After 20+ in the financial services industry having managed large transformation projects whilst operating day-to-day activities, I am a practical, result-driven business leader with a proven track record in driving business transformation, operational excellence, and global client success. Thriving on achieving ambitious goals, making strategic decisions, and aligning businesses with their long-term vision and deliver real outcomes.

I specialise in business development, process optimization, and strategic execution. Whether it's defining a market entry strategy, pricing model, or streamlining people, processes, and systems, she ensures businesses grow with energy and clarity. And who do I work with? CEOs, Boards, and leadership teams looking for a trusted advisor to navigate strategic change, new market expansion, and stakeholder engagement. With a structured and analytical approach, I ensure measurable wins that inspire teams and drive sustainable success. Simultaneously I have been working with smaller businesses who need an advisor to navigate ever changing circumstances – my approach is to tailor the level of advice to what the business needs and to maximise the benefit of the owner and/or senior leader.

The key aim is to develop confidence, decision-making skills, and resilience resulting in a successful business.
